

Small Wisom And Nonsense / Maybe the gods are just scientists that do experiments and human...

beings were an experimental species and we were given a certain length of time to prove we could be a sustainable peaceful spiritually ethical species yet we have not. We have proved we are destructive by nature and cannot sustain coexistence on the earth, therefore they must extinguish us the way they did dinosaurs. Who knows what fault that race of beings had. Maybe too boring, lacking this type of creative it's love passion emotional range etc, idk! Could be anything cus we don't know and cannot know.

Or maybe it's up to us to prove we aren't terrible but it had to be collectively and we are too divided as is to prove it. Like the higher power(s) won't just get rid of the evil for us, we have to do it as one unified collective organism split into seven billion physical bodies lmao

It's such reverse logic because those who fight to let everyone be happy need to extinguish those who want alleged happiness in their eyes but it's actually just misery for many ugh gosh wait
